Day Seven

“Christ and the Adulterous Woman”

Artist: Pieter Van Lint

“...but if I’ve learned one thing, it’s this: forgiveness is crucial. If you can’t forgive someone you’re mad at, that anger will poison you. You have to learn to let it go.... People have reasons for doing the things they do, especially when they care about you. You may not always understand what they are, but if you can try to understand the person then you might see that they really care despite what happened.”
