Lucas Mark Lee was just 7 months old when he was diagnosed with anaplastic astrocytoma, a rare type of brain cancer. Since the beginning of February, 2019, Lucas has undergone two brain surgeries, and this March he will begin a year-long regimen of chemotherapy to ensure his cancer stays gone for good. His family is grateful for the blessings God is already working with their little fighter. As Lucas' parents have said, "We are holding onto our faith and know that God has a plan."
